

BRITISH LABOR REGIME IN TROUBLE

SIMPLE RITES ARE HELD FOR
MRS. TRUMANPRESIDENT'S AGED MOTHER IS BURIED IN KANSAS CITY

BY STERLING GREEN
Grandview, Mo., July 28 (AP)—A simple funeral service, read in her plain old-fashioned parlor, closed the book of life today for Mrs. Martha Ellen Truman, 94, mother of the President.

The silver gray casket was carried down a steep flight of steps by four grandsons and two nephews to a waiting hearse when the 20-minute service ended.

The short cortege—only 16 cars—moved slowly away from Mrs. Truman's green-roofed cottage where she died Saturday, to her final resting place in Forest Hill cemetery in Kansas City.

No Pictures Taken
The President and his family arrived from "the Summer White House" in Independence, Mo., 90 minutes before the service was begun by Rev. Welborn Bowman of Grandview.

"The Lord is my shepherd: I shall not want," was the text chosen from the 23rd psalm by Mrs. Truman's Baptist neighbors.

The President, in a tan suit, was sombre-faced as his White House limousine passed through the barrier guarded by Jackson county sheriff's deputies to insure privacy. Mrs. Truman smiled and waved to waiting cameramen who had been asked to take no pictures.

Soon after, perhaps a score of other Truman relatives arrived in family cars. Shirt-sleeved, for the most part, because of the 100-degree temperature, the men donned their coats before entering the home where Mrs. Truman died as the President flew from Washington.

Trucks Bring Flowers
Despite the wish of the President and his mother that no flowers be sent, half a dozen trucks laden with floral offerings rolled up the unpaved, dusty street to the old cottage.

The President and Mrs. Truman sat in the kitchen while Mr. Bowman delivered the brief service from a position midway between the dining room and living room.

There was a brief passage from the Bible, a prayer, and a short eulogy written by Miss Mary Jane Truman, who lived with her mother and cared for her through the last illness. It was not a eulogy, the Rev. Mr. Bowman said that Mrs. Truman would not have wanted one. Then he recited the 23rd psalm and offered a prayer. There was no music.

One of those present said Mr. Truman's drawn face and tense expression "showed his grief," but there were no tears.

The casket rested in the bedroom where Mrs. Truman died.

With Mr. and Mrs. Truman in the kitchen were Margaret, their daughter; Miss Mary Jane, and Martha Ann, the daughter of J. Vivian Truman, the President's younger brother.

Grave On Slope
When the short service was ended, the funeral party followed the casket down the steps. State highway patrol cars led the procession slowly away. Neighbors of Mrs. Truman stood in their yards to watch. The second auto carried Mr. Bowman and the pallbearers. Then came the hearse, a gleaming black vehicle. Next the President and his family and 10 automobiles carrying the Truman kinfolk. Then the secret service car, bearing one or two members

Ship Fire Spreads
In Brest; 8 Killed,
Hundreds Injured

Brest, France, July 28 (AP)—A nitrate-laden Norwegian Liberty ship caught fire and exploded just outside Brest harbor today with a blast that killed eight persons, injured hundreds, leveled buildings and set fires that still raged in the heart of the city tonight.

Railways were blocked and communications cut in the explosion and ensuing fires, according to fragmentary reports.

Hundreds of residents fled from Brest before the explosion because they feared a repetition of the Texas City disaster when ships loaded with ammonium nitrate exploded and virtually leveled that port several months ago. Those fleeing were followed by more refugees after the blast when fires raged unchecked into the heart of the city.

The fire aboard the Norwegian vessel, the Ocean Liberty, was discovered while it lay alongside a dock just before noon. While firemen and French naval boats fought the blaze, the ship was towed out to a roadstead at what was thought to be a safe distance.

It exploded there five hours later.

The original blaze reportedly spread to the dock and an adjoining warehouse and it was not clear whether it was this fire or others started by the explosion that spread through the city.

The city's gas plant and an oil depot burned, one of the principal hospitals was reported heavily damaged and much of the business district was gutted by flames. The buildings which collapsed in the concussion from the blast were said to be flimsy structures in the harbor area.

(Telephone and telegraph wires were torn down in the explosion and fire and it was not immediately known how the persons killed met their death or where.)

UNIFIED ARMED
FORCES COSTLYSecretary Of Defense
Forrestal Outlines
His Policies

Washington, July 28 (AP)—James V. Forrestal, the nation's first overall secretary of defense, hinted today that his idea is to confine the job to top-level coordination of the services and stay out of operating detail.

The indication of his intentions emerged indirectly in a news conference in a discussion of finances. Forrestal said that at first the unification of the armed forces under a single cabinet officer, provided for in a new law signed Saturday, will add to rather than reduce the cost of the military establishment. Then he added:

"I hope the added administrative expense will be nominal."

"It is my hope that it will not add a large number to the federal payroll because I think to some extent the success of this job will be reflected in the smallness of its administrative staff."

The new secretary's indication of plans to restrict his set-up was taken as indicating a good deal of autonomy for the three coordinating branches of the armed forces, on the theory that the deeper he goes into direct administrative affairs the bigger force he will need.

Yet to be picked are the three non-cabinet secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air who will take over those phases of the nation's defense business. Forrestal apparently was talking mostly about his own staff, however, when he commented that the first big job in making the new set-up work is to "get people."

Bride, 94, Prepares
For Fourth Wedding
With No 5-Day Wait

Detroit, July 28 (AP)—Ninety-four-year-old Ellen Anderson O'Brien Jones Davis readied herself today for her fourth marriage while her bustling prospective groom, William H. Van Asperen, 73, obtained a waiver of a five-day waiting period.

"We're not getting any younger, and in this world you can't ever tell where you'll be tomorrow," the twice-married Van Asperen explained.

He said he met his bride-to-be at a square dance 17 years ago. It was a case of "love at first sight."

After the waiver was granted, the couple decided to postpone the ceremony until Saturday so one of Mrs. Davis' 11 children by previous marriages can attend. Van Asperen fathered seven children.

There will be no wedding trip, the groom-to-be said, and they will continue to live quietly on their old-age pensions.

Dewey Has Lazy Day
Visiting At Owosso

Owosso, Mich., July 28 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York shelved politics today and relaxed among relatives and friends in this placid city of his birth.

Dewey slept late at the home of his mother, Mrs. George M. Dewey, and in the afternoon visited the farm of Earl Putnam, a few miles outside Owosso.

As a boy of 16, during World War I, the governor worked a summer on the Putnam farm.

On his visit today, Dewey reminisced with Putnam and posed for pictures. He returned late in the afternoon for a dinner engagement with his cousin, Mrs. Harriet

CAR ASSEMBLY
PLANTS REOPENAutomobile Production
Moves Upward As GM
Ends Shutdown

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automobile Editor

Detroit, July 28 (AP)—General Motors' larger car assembly plants, closed since July 18 to permit the accumulation of sheet steel and other materials, reopened today, giving promise that this week's passenger automobile production would move upward again.

Ford's Mercury and Lincoln plants were closed today, however, because of a supplier plant strike.

The closing of general Motors cut about 23,000 units off last week's total output, which according to the trade Automotive News amounted to 53,318 passenger cars and 21,467 trucks.

With last week's assemblies output for July to date totaled 225,509 passenger and 78,767 commercial units and the total so far in 1947 reached 1,955,478 passenger cars and 705,398 trucks.

The feeling in automotive circles generally is that no sharp upturn in output volume may be expected much before the latter part of August. It then might run through September and October at considerably higher levels than yet have been attained in post-war operations.

Some of the so-called independent are likely to swing over to new model output in November, cutting moderately into the industry's overall output again during that month. Most of the industry's smaller volume producers are reported to have their new model work well advanced. None, however, can swing over to new model output without some interruption to their assembly lines.

FIRE CHIEFS MEET

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 28 (AP)—The first convention of the Michigan State Fire Chiefs association since wartime travel restrictions were imposed five years ago will be held here next Friday and Saturday. President J. Frank Van Atta of Kalamazoo, announced today.

Welsh of Owosso.

It was the quietest day Dewey has spent since he left Albany July 4 with his wife and two sons on a 4,000-mile western tour that was labeled a non-political vacation trip but turned out to be heavily political and left the governor little time for rest.

Except for a brief spell in Yellowstone National Park and the Grand Tetons following the governor's conference at Salt Lake City, Dewey has been campaigning hard, behind the scenes, for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination. He has received an almost unbroken string of reports from Republican leaders in the west and middle west that he is out front.

He heard in Michigan that he is the second choice of the party leadership in this state for the nomination. Arthur H. Vandenberg, Michigan's senior senator, holds the number one spot.

Dewey will confer here tomorrow with Arthur E. Summerfield, Republican National committee man from Michigan; John A. Wagner, state chairman; Mrs. Douglas Hay, national committee woman, and Mrs. Rae Hooker, state vice-chairman.

On Wednesday night, the governor will be a guest at a dinner in Flint, sponsored by the Flint City Club. Gov. Kim Sigler and other top Republican leaders of the state are expected to attend.

A luncheon at the University of Michigan Thursday will conclude Dewey's Michigan stay. He will go from Ann Arbor to Albany Thursday night.

BENTON HARBOR
STRIKE SETTLEDRemington - Rand Union Agrees To Terms Of
New Wage Offer

Benton Harbor, Mich., July 28 (AP)—The local Remington-Rand Company strike, which lasted more than a month and was punctuated by outbreaks of violence, ended today when 325 of the estimated 400 employees voted unanimously to accept the agreement negotiated yesterday at New York by ship-to-shore radio telephone.

John Gajack, spokesman for the CIO United Electrical Workers Local 931, said there was "every expectation" the agreement would be ratified by union members in other Remington-Rand plants.

The agreement, which varies from plant to plant, provides that Benton Harbor employees will receive an eight-cent hourly wage increase and six paid holidays.

Throughout most of the day, meanwhile, approximately 100 state police and sheriff's officers remained on duty at the strike-bound plant, where last week off-cers dispersed massed pickets with fire hoses.

The company had closed the plant last Thursday for a "cooling off" period at request of state police, after Sheriff Erwin Kubath said the situation was beyond his control.

HUGE WOODEN CARGO PLANE
LABELED FLOPCONTRACT PRESSURE
BY WHITE HOUSE IS DENIED

BY MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington, July 28 (AP)—A wartime aviation adviser to the government today avoided a "yes" or "no" answer as to whether Elliott Roosevelt exerted any pressure in the award of $40,000,000 of aircraft contracts to Howard Hughes and Henry J. Kaiser, but he said "the White House" did not.

Grover Loening, former special consultant to the War Production Board, told the Senate war investigating committee that he "never encountered any pressure from the White House" to reverse WPB recommendations against granting the contract.

Project Fantastic

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) said that he had noted newspaper references to possible influence on the part of Elliott, son of the late president. In reply to this, Loening said only:

"Please refer to my statement. I said I never encountered any pressure from the White House, period."

USED LOCAL BIRCHWOOD

Birch veneer used in construction of the Hughes-Kaiser huge wooden cargo plane was obtained from the Birds Eye Veneer company in Escanaba. Several carloads of birch were purchased from the local firm for the Hughes-Kaiser project.

Merrill C. Meigs, former War Production Board official who preceded Loening, testified that the Hughes-Kaiser project for 400-ton flying boats was "completely fantastic" but that he knows of nothing fraudulent or corrupt about the contract.

Meigs told the committee that the WPB aircraft division which he headed recommended against it. But he said he knows of no "political pressure" which caused Donald M. Nelson, WPB chairman at the time, to approve the contract despite advice to the contrary.

Loening said the huge wooden cargo plane "probably will fly" and "probably will break many records" but he would "worry very much about wing and tail flutter" if it were flown very fast.

"I should say," he remarked, "that after the plane had been flown and many pictures made of its crew and Mr. Hughes, that probably it would be run up on a beach and stay there like any other movie set."

Contract Hangs On

Loening testified that on Oct. 11, 1943 the Aircraft Production Board decided to cancel the Kaiser-Hughes contract. But he said that on Nov. 1, the board decided to let it run another 30 days until a board examined progress of the project.

On Jan. 26, 1944, Loening continued, that board recommended unanimously that the contract be cancelled, but that was not done.

"Why was it so difficult to cancel this contract," asked Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), chairman of the subcommittee conducting the hearings.

"I think that one reason was the very effective and plausible manner that Mr. Hughes had in appearing before the board," Loening replied.

Ferguson had asked Meigs whether the contract for flying boats had been let to Kaiser because government officials might have feared public reaction to rejection of the industrialist's bid, which came in 1942 when German sub-

Heat Stroke Kills
6-Weeks-Old Baby
As Parents Swim

Mt. Rainier, Md., July 28 (AP)—Dr. James I. Boyd, Prince Georges county coroner, reported today a six weeks old baby sustained a fatal heat stroke when its parents went swimming and left it in a kitchen where a stove was going.

The coroner identified the child as Meryl Glenn, daughter of Joseph B. Glenn, 21, and Jane Simon Glenn, 17.

Boyd said the parents told him the stove had been turned on in the kitchen to dry out two cats that had been washed.

The child and the cats were left in the kitchen, Boyd said, while the parents went swimming in a nearby lake.

The infant was dead when they returned home.

Boyd estimated the room temperature reached 106 degrees Fahrenheit. Normal body temperature runs about 98.4/5th degrees.

Soil Conservation
Setup Revived With
$265,000,000 Fund

BY OVID A. MARTIN

Washington, July 28 (AP)—The agriculture department gave its far-flung AAA field service the word today to "resume operations" in signing up farmers to carry out its $265,000,000 soil conservation program for 1947.

Under the agricultural adjustment agency program, farmers receive cash and materials — principally lime and fertilizers — for carrying out approved soil and water conservation practices. With its set-up of more than 100,000 farmer committeemen, the project was inaugurated in the early days of the new deal. It was halted two months ago when the House voted to appropriate only $165,000,000 for it this year and to end it altogether next year.

The AAA had worked out a $300,000,000 program and President Truman had recommended that amount in his budget report to Congress.

Congress finally voted $265,000,000 for this year. Although this is lower than the sum asked, the soil program is being resumed on the same basis as originally planned. Officials say most of the country AAA officers will be able to keep present staffs. Under the appropriation bill first passed by the House, they faced sharp curtailment.

Although the amount appropriated for administrative expenses this year is about 18 per cent less than last, the bulk of the reduction in personnel and other expenses will be absorbed in Washington and in state offices.

The administrative fund is in addition to the $265,000,000, which will go for payments to farmers.

A farmer may sign up for any number of approved practices but he is promised only a certain amount of money, with the provision that he will get additional payments if any money is left after all farmers have been paid their minimum guarantees.

Officials say the minimum amount promised all farmers is expected to total about $265,000,000, the sum Congress voted.

The program will be cut sharply next year. At the insistence of the Senate, the House agreed to go along with an appropriation of $150,000,000 for 1948.

ALL RATIONING
ENDS ON SUGARNo Funds Appropriated
By Congress; Bureau
Dismisses 650

Washington, July 28 (AP)—All sugar rationing came to an end today because the government does not have the money to finance it further.

This action, announced by the agriculture department, affected only industrial and institutional users such as food processors, bakers, candy makers, hotels, hospitals and homes. Household rationing ended about two months ago.

The department had requested funds to finance industrial and institutional rationing until Oct. 31, the date when all sugar rationing authority expires. But Congress adjourned without voting the money.

As a consequence, officials said, the department had no alternative to dismissing the approximately 650 employees of the sugar rationing administration without the usual 30 day notices.

Officials still are of the opinion that, despite improvement in supplies, sugar is not plentiful enough to meet all demands at current ceiling prices.

The government decided, nevertheless, to keep present price ceilings.

It will attempt to prevent big users from buying large quantities and hoarding them. It placed limitations on the quantity which such users may hold in their inventories at any one time.

Missing Children
Found In Reservoir
After 20-Hour Hunt

Roscoe, Calif., July 28 (AP)—The bodies of six-year-old Patricia Thomas and her brother, Raymond Thomas, 9, were recovered today from Hansen dam reservoir by diving life guards as the distraught parents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Thomas, Los Angeles, looked on.

The mother collapsed as her daughter's lifeless body was brought to shore.

The children had been missing since the family went for an outing yesterday afternoon. Recovery of their bodies ended a 20-hour search of the area.

TRIBUTE TO AIR FORCE

Lansing, July 28 (AP)—Governor Sigler has proclaimed Aug. 1 Air Force Day, the executive office announced today. Michigan's aviation-minded governor asked residents "to pay tribute to the Army Air Forces and to honor the millions of men and women, living and dead, whose contributions to American air power make the Army Air Forces one of our nation's most important weapons of defense."

ATTLEE TOLD TO RESIGN BY
LONDON PAPERGROWING ECONOMIC STORM WATCHED
BY VOTERS

BY JACK S. SMITH

London, July 28 (AP)—Politicians and voters weighed tonight the chances of Britain's Labor government weathering the nation's growing economic storm after the pro-Labor London Daily Mirror called on Prime Minister Attlee to resign.

Attlee summoned his top ranking ministers—including Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Herbert Morrison, government leader in the House of Commons—to a conference this evening at No. 10 Downing Street to discuss economic policy.

The same subject is expected to be discussed Wednesday when Attlee meets with Labor members of parliament in a caucus. The Mirror said the invitation extended Attlee to attend the caucus was "more in the nature of a summons."

No Central Control

In its editorial, the first of its kind from any strongly pro-government newspaper, the Mirror called for the naming of a new labor prime minister and said: "There is no constant, central control of government. Mr. Attlee leaves it to others x x x. His cabinet system should go. So should Mr. Attlee."

The prime minister's residence declined comment on the editorial.

These questions occupied the attention of political circles:

1—Will Attlee's government be driven by economic necessity to take conservatives and liberals into partnership, as did the last previous labor government under Ramsay MacDonald in 1931?

2—Or will Attlee's cabinet, accepting its heavy majority in the House of Commons as a five-year mandate from the people, continue to shoulder the burden of post-war recovery by itself until its term of office expires in 1950?

The prevailing non-partisan opinion was that labor could "carry on" alone or call a general election, perhaps before the end of this year, rather than call on its opposition for help.

Police Fight Kills
Eight In Shanghai;
Theater Wrecked

Shanghai, July 28 (AP)—A jurisdictional riot between city and military police in a movie theater took eight lives and wounded at least 15 persons last midnight and led to this series of developments today:

City police went on strike, but most of them were talked out of it by the mayor.

A "vengeance squad" of city police returned this afternoon and wrecked the theater where the fight had occurred.

The "cinema exhibitors' guild" threatened to close all movies in Shanghai unless the wreckers were ordered confined to barracks for two days.

U. S. Coast Guardsmen of the Escanaba station went to the rescue Saturday night when a 14-foot outboard motorboat capsized in a heavy squall about a mile south-east of the city yacht harbor. Assisted by Carl Wentworth, of Escanaba, the Coast Guardsmen rescued Donald Frederickson, of Stager, Mich., and A. J. Habala, 1832 Seventh avenue south, Escanaba, who had been clinging to their overturned craft for about half an hour when pulled in at 6:45 p. m. Saturday by Wentworth and the Coast Guard crew headed by Capt. Dan Garrett.

The men had been fishing and were caught in a sudden heavy squall. Wentworth was just returning to the yacht harbor and the 26-foot Coast Guard station boat was just leaving the harbor when Wentworth, who pilots a speed boat, was hailed and asked to join the rescue party.

Sound Advice

SIGNING a bill allowing war veterans to cash their terminal leave bonds after Sept. 1, President Truman completed action on legislation which was designed primarily to correct an injustice to former enlisted men of the armed services.

At the same time, the president offered a bit of good advice to war veterans when he suggested that unless they absolutely needed the money that the terminal leave bonds would bring after September 1, they should not cash their bonds then. As the president pointed out, present inflationary conditions mean that the veterans cannot hope to get as much for their dollars now as they will later when prices stabilize.

Legislation authorizing veterans to cash their bonds was adopted at the present session of congress primarily because the legislators recognized unfairness in the treatment that had been given to enlisted men as compared to the treatment given to officers in the services following their separation from active duty.

Officers were promptly paid in cash upon separation from service for any accumulated leave time. No provision at all was made for payment of accumulated leave time for enlisted men until congress passed a law providing for such credits to ex-GI's, but stipulating that they should be issued non-negotiable bonds instead of cash.

The act passed unanimously at the present session of congress and signed into law by President Truman Saturday provides further corrective treatment to veterans by authorizing them to turn their bonds into cash after September 1.

The act passed unanimously at the present session of congress and signed into law by President Truman Saturday provides further corrective treatment to veterans by authorizing them to turn their bonds into cash after September 1.

The law does not require veterans to cash their terminal leave bonds. They can hold them if they desire and can continue to draw 2 1/4 per cent interest on them. For those who do not need the money immediately, it is wise to hold on to the bonds. By so doing, they will help to retard inflationary pressures and at the same time can keep a nest egg for the day when their terminal leave dollars will buy a lot more than they will at this time.

U. of M. Expands Service

MANY persons interested in education will welcome the decision by the University of Michigan to expand the work of its extension department in the Upper Peninsula.

For years, the university has been endeavoring to carry on its extension service north of the Straits from Ann Arbor. Despite geographical difficulties, much good has been accomplished, but with the establishment of an extension center in Escanaba the possibilities for giving the people of the Upper Peninsula the benefit of the great facilities and services of the state university should increase tremendously.

Regular non-credit classes in various subjects will be started at Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Menominee, Marquette and other Upper Peninsula communities which feel a need for educational opportunities. In addition, university faculty members will be brought in more frequently on lecture tours of the region.

The university's extension department made a good choice in selecting Charles Follo for the position of director of extension work in the Upper Peninsula. In addition to his regular high school teaching duties, Mr. Follo has been in charge of the adult education program since its inception here. The local program incidentally, is rated by educators as among the best in the state. Mr. Follo also has been long active in educational and civic organization work on both a local and state level.

Escanaba and other communities will deeply appreciate the move made by the University of Michigan to offer its services directly to the people of the long-isolated Upper Peninsula region.

Los Angeles Is Too Big

WESTERN newsmen say that city officials of Los Angeles are actually advising the public to keep away from that city until further notice, on the ground that things are so congested that room within reasonable distance of downtown—twenty miles or so—is at a high premium.

Los Angeles now claims a population so much larger than Detroit's that the latter can never catch up. The L. A. boosters say their metropolitan area is practically as large and as thickly populated as Philadelphia, and that they will overtake Chicago within ten years. It sounds fantastic, but they think they will have, in a couple of decades, the largest city in the world. Heady stuff, that Los Angeles drinking water which comes over the mountains from the raging Colorado river.

The town's latest move is to build a breakwater seven miles long at Long Beach. This is some twenty-two miles from the L. A. city hall, but the intervening stretch is now solidly built up and booming. This the barriers at San Pedro and Long Beach will enclose just about the world's largest harbor.

Unlike San Francisco, which has a magnificent natural harbor in the Golden Gate and the back bay, L. A. has had to make provision for nautical safety at tremendous cost. Thus the west coast now has as good harbor and docking facilities as the world affords, including those, of course, at Portland, Seattle and Vancouver.

All of this imposing array, according to some very competent geologists, is on the wrong side of a very pronounced 'fault' at the west base of the Coast Range mountains. They say that some day—perhaps hundreds of years ahead—this great slip, or crack in the earth from British Columbia to Mexico, is likely to let go with disastrous results to everything west of it, and that the entire coast will be in great danger of slipping into the Pacific ocean. However, the buoyant Los Angeles are counting on staving this off, at least for a generation or two, when Southern California will be even more thickly settled than it is now.

Modern Education

THE importance of daily newspapers in elementary education is emphasized by Dr. Robert Seashore, chairman of Northwestern university's department of psychology, in a report based on the university's research in this field.

Dr. Seashore reported that grade school textbooks are lagging far behind children's actual vocabularies. In fact, the professor pointed out, children's vocabularies have developed in size of, rather than through the aid of, textbooks by their extremely limited vocabularies. Grade school textbook readers introduce only 500 new words a year to youngsters up to age 10, while the average child builds his vocabulary at the rate of 5,000 words a year.

A principal reason for the rapid growth of children's vocabularies is the fact that the youngsters read many publications which are not based upon restricted vocabularies. The most important of these is the daily newspaper.

It has long been recognized that newspapers play an important part in the education of students of junior and senior high school age, but Dr. Seashore's report shows that the family newspaper also is an important medium in the education of the grade school child. As a means of vocabulary expansion, it is far more important than the textbook reader.

If anyone doubts this to be true, he need only observe how quickly Junior seizes the daily paper when it arrives on the front porch.

SERVICE EXTENDED (Marquette Mining Journal)

Extension of the Detroit-Houghton airline service to include Iron Mountain is followed by news that Escanaba may be added to the route and, as might be expected, aggressive Escanaba is going after it hammer and tongs.

Airports in Houghton, Iron Mountain and Escanaba apparently are suitable for operation of the big-two-motored ships use don the fast run to and from Detroit and Lansing and patronage is reported to be considerably greater than anticipated by owners of the airline.

Marquette is slated to be a terminal stop on the Wisconsin Central airline's proposed route into the Upper Peninsula, the franchise for which has been granted by the CAA. But it is understood this service cannot be started until the airport project at Sands has been completed. Progress is being made, but it is slow and it may be some time before the port is ready for use.

There is no reason, however why Marquette should mark time. The Detroit-Houghton airlines fly over Marquette enroute to Houghton and one of them, caught in a storm, landed on the present county airport recently. It is possible Marquette might be added as a regular stop for these planes, if somebody would get busy on promotion along that line. Two-hour transportation between Marquette, Lansing and Detroit undoubtedly would attract a lot of patronage in this area. It is something which merits at least as much effort as was given to what now appears to be an almost hopeless attempt to get railway sleeper service from here to the state's metropolis.

WORDS TO WATCH

In our weed patch of American mispronunciations, one of the hardest to uproot is "main-TAIN-ance" for the word maintenance, in fact, it is not at all uncommon to see "maintenance" in print in well-edited publications.

A few evenings ago a broadcaster speaking from Washington emphasized the necessity of the "main-TAIN-ance" of a strong Army, Navy and Air Force.

But there is no such word as "maintain-ance." The second syllable is "te" not "tain-." Be sure to say: MAIN-tuh-n'ns.

A certain scissors-and-paste-top columnist, who occasionally goes away beyond his depth in the discussion of word origins and pronunciations, recently came forward with the startling information that the name Nevada, in the state itself, is pronounced "nee-VAID-uh." Of course that is a ridiculous boner which I feel duty bound to brand as such. We Americans make enough pronouncing errors without having mispronunciations fed to us by ill-informed

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—In the huggermugger of the congressional wind-up, tempers were stirred and old feuds were aired. But there is at least one member of Congress who is as happy as a small boy on Christmas morning.

That is Sen. Owen Brewster of rock-ribbed Republican Maine. Sen. Brewster, chairman of the War Investigating committee, has struck pay dirt. It has the glitter of political gold, and the senator from Maine intends that it shall be as widely advertised as possible.

Brewster looks at the world with a darkling suspicion. He is always prepared for the worst. And now he has found a cozy scandal that seems to have everything.

—MADE TO ORDER—

If Brewster had dreamed up the investigation into the millions of dollars that went into Howard Hughes' super-cargo plane, it could not be better. The cast is out of Hollywood. As in the good old days of the Ziegfeld Follies, the billing is girls, girls, girls.

Lavish parties were financed, presumably at the cost of the taxpayer. Big names are involved—far more names than have yet been disclosed. One mysterious character has gone to Cape Horn, which is about as far as he can get from the scene of the inquiry. This is political gold that pays off in sensational headlines.

Behind the scenes of this lurid drama is a play of forces that has been little noted. Sen. Brewster cannot feel too sad that the principal character in the drama just happens to be Hughes.

Hughes is the principal stockholder in Trans-World Airlines. He recently stepped in to reorganize the company, which faced serious difficulties. Brewster is the champion in the senate for Pan-American Airways. Pan-American has other friends, but Brewster has persistently and consistently on every occasion taken up the Pan-American cause.

—AIRLINE WANTS MONOPOLY—

Pan-American Airways has pushed a bill to create a "Chosen Instrument"—that is, a single airline which, with the blessing of the United States government, would have a monopoly on overseas operation out of this country. The Pan-American argument is that only with such a "chosen instrument" can we successfully meet the airline competition of other countries.

The "chosen instrument" theory is bitterly opposed by the other airlines now operating overseas. They are fearful that the "chosen instrument" would eventually be dominated by Pan-American, which is the pioneer in the foreign field, with years of experience back of its overseas operations.

Behind each side of this argument, powerful pressures have developed in congress. So now Howard Hughes, one of the chief advocates of competitive lines, just happens to be in the center of the scandal that Brewster is probing.

—PUNISH THE GUILTY—

Let's by all means get at whatever may be wrong in this business. Those found guilty of wrong-doing should be punished, and not merely by the publicity route.

But the investigation should not be circumscribed by politics, as it seems to be. There have been persistent rumors about the influence used to determine airline routes. A number of senators have convenient connections with major airlines. Why not dig into the whole business and see what the facts are?

Too much has been covered up out of the lavish, free-handed spending that went on with government money during the war. We have heard a great deal of talk about the champagne parties given by shipbuilders at ship launchings. Diamond bracelets went to friends selected to sponsor the ships. And the taxpayer footed the bill.

The Maritime commission compiled a list of those who received expensive presents. The matter has been before Brewster's War Investigating committee for a long time. But nothing has been heard of it. Sen. Brewster should realize that the target is a broad one. He need not be so selective in picking the objects of his investigative skill.

ed "experts" who, apparently, cannot even read the dictionaries.

Please do not ever permit yourself to say "nee-VAID-uh." Why if word should reach the proud State of Nevada that people elsewhere were calling it "nee-VAID-uh," her citizens would start clamoring for secession.

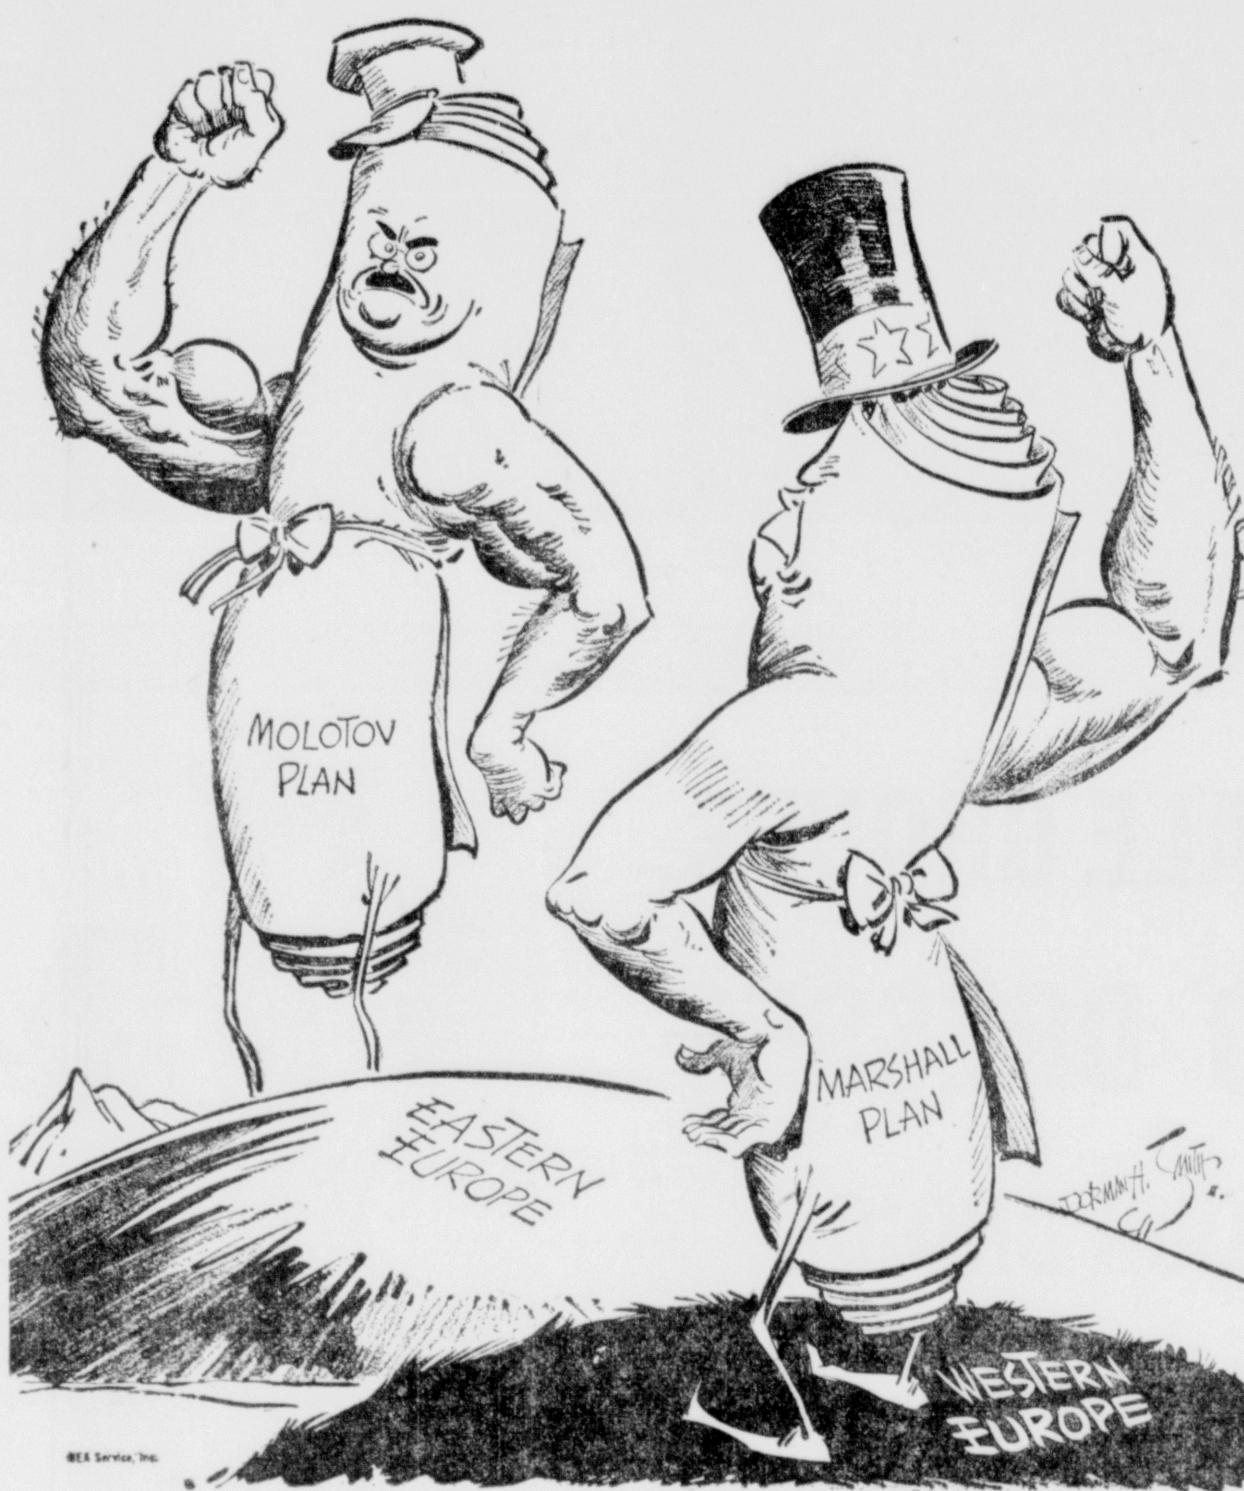

In Nevada, and the rest of the Union, the prevailing pronunciation is: nuh-VAD-uh. Also heard, but less frequently, is: nuh-VAID-uh.

Johnson, Kansas: Please discuss the correct American pronunciation of the word restaurant. A friend of mine says "Restau-RAWNT." It sounds wrong. I always say "RESS-tau-rant," with the third syllable rhyming with "pant."—Mrs. C. M. H.

Answer: In Standard American the third syllable is not accented, nor should it be pronounced "rawnt." Restaurant is a French loan word that means literally, "that which restores." The French use it also in the meaning of a public eating place. (Note: In France, a cafe is not a restaurant—it is a place where drinks only are served.) The French pronunciation is "ress-toe-RAH-(N)," the third syllable ending with the nasal sound.

Best U. S. usage is RESS-tuh-r'nt. Also heard, but infrequently: RESS-tuh-rant. Get your business letters out of the dark ages. My pamphlet shows you how to streamline your letters and avoid the Gay Nineties "elegance" that is the curse of most correspondence. ## The Build-Up

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

VOTING DAY—One Republican and one Democratic candidate for congress will be nominated in today's special primary. Then on August 26 the voters will decide which of the two shall go to congress to represent this district.

There will be many voters who will say that today's primary is unimportant and will not turn out to cast a ballot. There will be others with good intentions but a bad habit of never voting in a primary anyway. Altogether it is expected that a light vote will be cast and that a few thousand interested voters will pick the nominees for the district.

Political observers say "the national spotlight" is on the special election in the 11th district because it "may indicate a Republican or Democratic trend." We doubt that the primary today will reveal little more than a general apathy on the part of the voters. Somebody should turn a "national spotlight" on such apathy and seek to determine what kind of a trend that indicates.

QUIET SIMPLICITY—Escanaba's Ludington street is about three miles long, straight as a string, and the town promenade. Young matrons pushing baby carriages stroll downtown on chatty shopping trips in the afternoon, stopping to admire the offspring of their friends and to have their own admired. Older matrons with intent look enter one shop after another hunting for bargains. Business men hurry down the street—and then pop into a coffee shop for a hot cup and a little argument about golf, politics and prices.

Ludington street also serves another purpose. It has become an accepted social custom for newly married young couples to drive the full length of the street and back with car horn tooting and paper streamers flying. This part of the ceremony follows that in the church and both seem to be equally important. Although the bride is on the raucous side, the bride party like to have the account of the wedding read something like this:

"In a beautiful ceremony marked by quiet and dignified simplicity—"

BOTTLES ON BEACHES—George Grenholm, city recreation director, reports there is not much trouble with the danger of broken glass on the city beach at Ludington Park. Reason for this is that there is no pop stand concession there, and that cars must park a considerable distance from the shore. Empty bottles are not easily tossed into the water. And in the spring before the beach opens the life guards go over the sand with a fine rake, repeating the raking when it is necessary during the season.

But Arthur C. Elmer, Lansing, chief of the conservation department's parks division, says that broken glass is a problem on state park beaches. Most of the trouble comes not from pop bottles but from booze bottles. People who purchase pop get a rebate when the bottles are returned and most of the pop purchasers are kids who count their pennies.

The situation is dangerous for those who frequent beaches, either

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Mexico City—Bodies of 30 persons had been taken tonight from the ruins in Vera Cruz and Pueblo states where a heavy earthquake last night plunged cities into darkness.

The Escanaba Municipal airport will be dedicated this evening at 7:30 with the public, city officials, local fliers and 200 members of the Michigan State air tour taking part in the ceremony.

The midwestern's midsummer cool wave moved eastward last night to replace high temperatures beyond the Alleghenies.

Jim Crowley, head football coach of Fordham university and Tim Cohane, publicity director, were the principal speakers at the meeting of the Rotary club held at the Delta hotel yesterday afternoon.

Miss Helen Gunkel of Escanaba opened her Lov-Lee Beauty Shop at 816 South 14th street yesterday.

Twenty Years Ago
Mackinac Island—The 19th annual convention of governors completed its sessions today with roundtable discussion of matters previously touched upon, prepared speeches and an executive session at which a new executive committee was appointed.

Bids for cleaning and grading the Ludington Park bathing beach will be received by the municipal park commission during the next week.

The body of Miss Bertha Belle Reeve, 20, who was drowned at Lake Shore Beach Tuesday night, left on the Chicago and North Western last night for the home of her parents at Richmond, Ind. It was accompanied by Harold Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Anderson, at whose home the young woman was a guest.

to wade or to swim. Dangerous foot and knee injuries can be caused by broken glass. Don't be a bottle thrower and bottle breaker.

NERVOUS SMELT—From the town of Beulah on Crystal Lake in Lower Michigan comes a story that the smelt in that lake have been suddenly and rapidly dying. The cause of the die-off is just as mysterious as the disappearance of the smelt in Green Bay waters a few years ago.

"Ninety-five per cent of the specimens had irregularities in size and shape of eye pupils, possibly indicating an abnormality with pathological implications, of the nervous system." It was reported by the conservation department.

All that we need to see to make the life—and death—story of the smelt complete is a psychiatrist working on a neurotic smelt. Perhaps they suffered some frustration when they were fingerlings. The whole problem of Great Lakes smelt might well be referred to the Michigan Department of Mental Health.

BINGO BANNED—The American Legion clubhouse at Sault Ste. Marie has filed an appeal for a rehearing of its case before the Michigan liquor control commission. The commission had ordered a 60-day suspension of the Legion club license and a fine of $100 when it found the club guilty of allowing bingo games on licensed premises.

It is a peculiar commentary on the law that the liquor control commission finds bingo illegal in places where liquor is sold, yet bingo is permitted without hindrance in other places. Just why bingo should be considered illegal in one location and acceptable in another is a peculiarity that only law enforcement officers might be

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington — The world knew what President Truman said when he walked onto the Senate floor the other day and occupied his old seat, but not many people knew what happened in Leslie Biffle's office just before the President decided to take this unprecedented step.

Once before, on the day of his inauguration, Biffle, who is head of the Democratic Policy committee, had talked Truman out of appearing on the Senate floor. But this time it was Biffle who dared him to do it.

Nothing sensational occurred at the luncheon which preceded the President's nostalgic return to the Senate floor. After some god-natured ribbing by Illinois' lanky Scott Lucas about Truman's red-white-and-blue bow tie with handkerchief to match, which Kentucky's Barkley said was not as good as his, Biffle dared the President to step across from the private luncheon and take his former senate seat.

"You wouldn't let me do it last time," chided Truman, and almost immediately marched out onto the senate floor.

After he finished speaking and was leaving the senate, Tom Connally of Texas bounced after him.

"Harry! Harry!" Shouted Connally as the President walked briskly out the door and down the corridor.

A flustered doorman, taking in the situation, leaped from his seat and shouted: "Hey, Harry! Tom Connally wants to see you!"

Truman wheeled around, the doorkeeper flushed crimson, and Senator Connally was able to pay his respects to the president.

—WHO WAS WHO IN CONGRESS—

Now that the smoke of congressional battle has cleared away, it's possible to look back and do a little sizing up as to who did the good jobs and who did the bad ones among congressional newcomers. Not for years has congress seen such a bumper crop of freshmen, and the voters who elected them deserve to know how they rated.

So here is the Merry-Go-Round scorecard on the first-termers in the House of Representatives:

James T. Patterson, Connecticut Republican—A 38-year-old ex-Marine officer, courageous, intelligent, doesn't hesitate to buck the leaders when he thinks they're wrong. A1 record.

John A. Blatnik, Minnesota Democrat—an ex-Major who three times parachuted behind Tito's lines during the war and operated a 5th column there against the Germans. Just as tough in congressional battle as in European battle.

Frank Karsten, Missouri Democrat—learned the congressional ropes as aide to ex-Congressman Jack Cochran of Missouri; knows more about congress than many old-timers, is respected by both parties.

Jake Javits, New York Republican—Progressive and Independent, gets in the leaders' hair but one of the best operators in congress.

Robert E. Jones, Alabama Democrat—successor to the house seat of Senator John Sparkman an ex-Navy gunnery officer, and a chip off the old block.

John Davis Lodge, Connecticut Republican—scholarly, conservative, Harvard, ex-movie actor, brother of Senator Cabot Lodge. Ranks high with house leaders because he votes regular, is frank to admit his political career has been aided by a beautiful Italo-American wife who stumped with him in the 1946 campaign.

George Smathers, Florida Democrat—lanky, 33-year-old Progressive, a Marine corps hero, and a real comer.

Katharine St. George, New York Republican—This lady has brains and charm and might go places if she quit following the voting cues of her predecessor and political tutor, isolationist Ham Fish.

Carl Albert, Oklahoma Democrat—A 33-year-old Rhodes scholar, who served five tough years in the army, rising from buck private to lieutenant colonel. Shows promise in congress.

Donald Jackson, California Republican, a personable, hard-working young ex-Marine, with an intelligent interest in world affairs, though needs more grooming.

John A. Carroll, Colorado Democrat, 46-year-old former Denver district attorney and two-war vet, courageous, farsighted, is developing into a fine public servant. A1 rating.

Omar Burleson, 41-year-old Texas Democrat, has earned the respect of Democratic leaders for his drive and sincerity, though not always for his voting record.

Thurston B. Morton, Kentucky Republican—hard-working, farsighted, fair-minded is accounted a comer by party chiefs.

John Kennedy, Massachusetts Democrat and son of the former U. S. Ambassador to Great Britain. Shows the same brilliance as his father, though steadier. Should have a great future.

Glenn R. Davis, Wisconsin Republican, a 32-year-old war vet with nine battle stars, has established himself as a savvy legislator.

A New York doctor says looks, to some degree, are determined by diet. Now what woman will want to eat plain food?

According to a writer, the proper care of eyebrows is tricky. And it takes lots of pluck.

Roads to the summer vacation spot we're anxious to reach should be made wider and shorter.

YOUR INFORMATION SERVICE
What do you want to know? We will answer questions on any subject not involving extended research. Legal or medical advice cannot be given. Write your question clearly, sign your name and address, and (IMPORTANT) Mail This Coupon and a 3-cent stamped self-addressed envelope to Daily Press Service Bureau, 1217 Thirteenth St., Washington 5, D. Q. Who were the "Sisters of Charity."

A. They were unmarried Christian women who associated themselves, in 1634, to nurse the sick, and relieve the sufferings of inmates of hospitals. The society was founded in France by Vincent de Paul and the widow Le Gras. It was suppressed at the time of the French revolution, but restored, under the presidency of the empress-mother, by Napoleon in 1807.

Q. Why is a room generally warmer (without a fire) than the open air?

A. Because the air in a room is not subject to much change and soon has the same temperature as our bodies.

Q. Which baseball player has the record for the most hits in one season?

A. George Sisler of the St. Louis Americans, in 1920, had 257 hits. Q. Is it true that refrigeration does not kill all bacteria in fish?

A. Yes. Some types of bacteria are able to resist extremely low temperatures by hibernating. These types may cause considerable damage through spoilage if the temperature of the storage room is raised to a point favorable to their growth, or if there be defrosting during transit from one point to another.

Q. When did the Declaration of Independence find a permanent resting place?

A. In 1921, when it was placed on exhibition in the Library of Congress. It was nearly captured by the British in 1812 and several other times barely escaped destruction.

Q. In whose honor was the State of West Virginia named?

A. The State of Virginia was named in honor of Queen Elizabeth. When a new State was carved out of western Virginia, the new State was named West Virginia. West Virginia was admitted to the union on June 20, 1863.

Q. What causes the rolling of thunder?

A. The effect of echo has been ascribed as a reason. However, the true cause probably is that the lightning in passing through the air develops sound, consequently separate sounds are produced at every point through which lightning passes.

LINCOLN CLUB IS PROPOSED

Don Bachofen Delivers Inspiring Address To Kiwanis Club

How the formation of a Lincoln club in Escanaba could awaken in the minds and hearts of its members a greater appreciation of America and the principles, for which the Great Emancipator stood for, was explained in an inspiring talk by Don Bachofen of Escanaba at the meeting of the Kiwanis club yesterday noon.

Mr. Bachofen, who has been a student of Lincoln for the past 14 years, has collected 1,000 books and more than 2,000 newspaper and magazine clippings dealing with the life of our Civil War president. He also has a collection of casts and pictures of Lincoln. He is a member of the Abraham Lincoln association and the Illinois Historical society. Mr. Bachofen was one of a small group of Lincoln authorities who were invited to be present at early morning opening of the secret Lincoln papers, contributed by Robert Todd Lincoln to the Library of Congress and the American people. Unfortunately, he was unable to attend the historic ceremony.

Going To Washington
The speaker said that the first cursory reading of the papers, which have been kept locked in 126 strong boxes the past 21 years, revealed nothing of a sensational nature. He said he plans to go to Washington, D. C., shortly to study some of them for a few days, in the hopes of obtaining some new information for a book he is writing on the subject. "Lincoln and Michigan," Mr. Bachofen recently completed the writing of a booklet on "Lincoln's Gettysburg Address."

Listing the objects of a Lincoln club, Mr. Bachofen said that such an organization could promote research work into the life of Lincoln, make arrangements to fittingly observe his birthday and other anniversaries, and encourage youth to embrace the ideals he exemplified.

"We, in America, need a measuring rod to guide us in the future," the speaker said. "The measuring rod must not be in the European or Asiatic meter." He added that we can use the writings and life of Abraham Lincoln to guide us in pursuing the American way of life.

As proof of Lincoln's greatness, Mr. Bachofen stated that when he became president he appointed to his cabinet his three bitterest political enemies, Chase, Seward and Stanton, because he believed that their abilities and knowledge were needed in the nation's service.

Detroit Kiwanian Speaks
Atty. Arthur Murphy of Detroit, past president of the Holly Park Kiwanis club there, spoke briefly, describing his club's project for aiding spastic children in Detroit. He said that the experimental work is bringing good results and that it may point the way to a state aid program.

William Warmington, president of the Kiwanis club, read a report from Kiwanis International on the Ahoskie, N. C., incident. The report stated in part:

"The board of trustees of Kiwanis International long ago adopted a strong policy condemning the use of raffles, lotteries, or questionable means of raising funds. Articles have been run repeatedly in the monthly club bulletin and other publications explaining this policy, pointing out the reasons why such practices should not occur.

"For over 32 years, the name Kiwanis has been a symbol for honesty, fair play, and daily living of the Golden Rule. Intolerance and unfairness have never had, nor will they ever have, a place in the tenets and program of Kiwanis International. Yet in spite of these facts, an incident was brought to light a few days ago that brought some discredit, not only upon the club that was responsible, but upon the name of Kiwanis and all that the name implies."

The report went on to explain that the Ahoskie Kiwanis club had made amends to giving $3,200 to Harvey Jones, Negro, who won a Cadillac car at a lottery but was at first declared ineligible.

"The essential facts of the case," the report continued, "are, then, that a serious mistake was committed, then rectified insofar as possible. Although much adverse publicity resulted from the initial story, the press has been quite fair in pointing out that the Ahoskie incident is not representative of Kiwanis, the high standards of Kiwanians and clubs everywhere, and the great good that has been accomplished throughout the years. It is our firm conviction that Kiwanis clubs everywhere will continue to hold the same high position in communities, and that we will continue to move forward with even greater success in carrying out the principles and objects upon which this great organization was built."

It is estimated that Stradivarius, famous Italian violin maker of Cremona, made approximately 1000 violins.

18 Attend Ward Family Reunion

The family reunion Sunday at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. James G. Ward, 515 Third avenue south, Escanaba, marked the first time since 1935 that the five Ward children had been together at the same time and the first time the eight grandchildren had met simultaneously.

The last meeting was in Iron Mountain, a short time before the Rev. Ward came to Escanaba to be rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal church.

In the group of 18 at the Ward residence Sunday were the grandparents, three daughters, two sons, two sons-in-law, one daughter-in-law and eight grandchildren.

The daughters are Mrs. Clovis C. Colvin, Ada, Okla.; Mrs. Cecil W. Langren, Iron Mountain, and Mrs. Kenneth R. Thompson, Marinette, Wis., and the sons are James, Jr., and Leonard, of Escanaba and Menominee, respectively, both of whom returned from National Guard encampment at Camp Grayling just in time for the reunion.

DALEY SPEAKS TO ROTARIANS

Early Days In Escanaba Recalled By One Of City's Pioneers

T. J. "Tom" Daley of 411 Ogden avenue, a resident of Escanaba since 1869, described conditions in the city in its early days as a small village and told the Escanaba Rotary club yesterday noon that "we should be proud of our town today with its clean streets lined with shade trees, its good water and fine homes."

The Daley family came to Escanaba in 1869 when Tom was eight years old. The town was still called Sand Point by the brakemen on the railroad, and the little village of Escanaba extended no farther west than the present Seventh street. Beyond that were jack pine forests, and the same woods stretched to the south. The streets were sandy trails with stumps in them.

"The only water was from wells and these were covered to keep out the dust and dirt," Daley recalled. There were no shade trees along the streets except some oaks in Ludington Park. The town was infested with rats that swarmed over the dock where supplies were received by boat for shipment by rail north to Marquette, Negaunee and the mining range.

Shipping Center
"Looking back on it, and comparing it with what we have now, I think you will agree that Escanaba was then a dirty disagreeable little village," Mr. Daley commented.

Important street of the town was the one that led from the dock to the old Tilden House, then the best hotel in this area. At the docks were the brightly painted side-wheeler boats, such as the "Dunlap" and the "Saginaw," with their big walking beams and paddle wheel boxes. "My, they were pretty boats," said Mr. Daley. "And out in the bay I have counted 67 schooners waiting to take on ore."

The Tilden House was operated by the C. & N. W. railroad and the N. Ludington company. On the top floor of the hotel was a dance floor and theater, and in a room atop the roof was established in 1871 the town's first weather station. There was but one sidewalk in Escanaba. It was from the dock to the hotel and was made of boards.

First Cemeteries
There were no farms in the Escanaba area and all supplies came in by boat, not only for this area but also for the communities farther north on the rail line. Because of the huge amount of food and supplies in storage on the dock the rats were large and numerous. This shipping continued till navigation closed in the fall and there was even a "special brew" of beer said to have been issued for the Upper Peninsula which would keep through the winter when shipping was off, Daley recalled.

By 1872—the year of the "panic"—Escanaba had a population of about 1,000 to 1,200 persons. The year before there was a big fire when Peshtigo was razed by forest fire and several hundred were burned to death.

"The year of 1871 was one of smoke all over this country," Mr. Daley said. "People who had any time to spare would go out to the pine plains at the edge of town and back fire the pine tree tops, for if the fire had come through them toward town it would have burned us out."

The first cemetery in Escanaba was where the North Western railroad yards are now, Mr. Daley recalled. It was much larger than the one that still remains at Pioneer Trail Park but the bodies were moved out with steam shovels and reburied, and the first funeral that Mr. Daley recalled seeing in Escanaba was at a cemetery where Rose Park is now located.

Mrs. Julia Kittner Dies At Hospital, Funeral Wednesday

Mrs. Julia Kittner, 61, of 519 South 8th street, died Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock at St. Francis hospital. She had been seriously ill for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Kittner was born in Ashland, Wis., December 8, 1885, and her marriage to James H. Kittner took place there April 30, 1906. Mr. Kittner died on November 3, 1940.

She was a member of St. Patrick's church and of St. Patrick's Guild.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Sterling Prais, the former Jeanette Kittner, one son, James Roderick, both of Escanaba; three grandchildren; and the following brothers and sisters, George W. Kennedy and A. J. Kennedy, Fresno, Calif.; R. A. Kennedy, Bellingham, Wash.; F. E. Kennedy, Creswell, Ore.; Mrs. M. J. Steele, Indianapolis; and Mrs. Christine Donnelly, Ashland.

The body will be in state at the Boyce funeral home at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Services will be held at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Patrick's church, with Rev. Fr. Martin E. Melican, celebrant of the requiem high mass. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

Axel Saltin Is Found Dead In Bed

He was born in Angerman Land, Sweden, May 10, 1894. He worked here as a member of the bridge and building crew of the Chicago & North Western railway. He was a member of the North Star lodge and the Brotherhood of Railway Employees.

Mr. Saltin was unmarried. He is survived by four sisters, and one brother in Sweden; and two nephews, Clarence G. Falk, of Chicago, and Wilbert C. Falk of Hampton, Va.

"Marmil" Of Chicago And Crew Of Four In Harbor For Lay-over

A week's cruise from the Windy City, including stormbound hours in Milwaukee, has taken a party of four Chicagoans and their craft, the "Marmil" into Escanaba Yacht Harbor for a short visit. While here the two ladies in the group—both schoolteachers of Chicago—will renew acquaintances with John Mitchell, whom they remember from a trip here last summer.

The crew and passenger list of the Class D cruiser consists of Marian and Milton Stern, owners, and Betty Rohde and Ira Leonard. Mr. Stern is a buyer for a large Chicago candy corporation while Mr. Leonard, an electrical engineer, recently returned from a trek into India.

The Marmil last stopped in Fish Creek harbor where her crew found the fishing excellent. From Escanaba she will set sail for Fayette, where the party has camped several times.

Interviewed Monday, both teachers asked if Fayette has changed since changing ownership. The young women were fearful lest the harbor become too commercialized. News of the transfer of ownership was carried in several of the Chicago papers. Mrs. Stern stated that Fayette has long been the pet harbor of many Chicago yachtsmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Stern have been visiting in harbors of Upper Michigan for the past seven years. In the recent last summer, the Sterns sailed the leg from Menominee to Escanaba.

Sabuco To Build New Salesroom— Garage Building

Plans for the construction of a new salesroom and garage building at Ludington and 22nd street were announced yesterday by Mark Sabuco of Escanaba, who estimated the cost of the structure will be between $30,000 and $40,000.

Work on the building will be started this week by Edward Therrian, local contractor. The building will be 140 feet long and 50 feet wide, with the front of plate glass. Concrete blocks covered with stucco, terrazzo floors in the salesroom section, and other modern materials will be utilized in the construction of the building.

The city has approved Sabuco's application and has issued a permit for the building.

Sabuco said that he expects the building will be ready for use in about three months and that he will be the agent for the new Tucker car in Delta, Schoolcraft and Alger counties.

Sabuco was issued a permit to build the $35,000 structure by the City of Escanaba Monday afternoon.

Several Months Work Remain On Industrial Job

The Meyers Construction company, general contractors for the industrial expansion project at the Escanaba Paper company and the Upper Michigan Power and Light company, has several more months of work here although its crew will gradually be reduced, William Monroe, construction engineer in charge of the project, reported yesterday.

Reports that the company had already laid off a large proportion of its crew are unfounded, Monroe revealed. At the maximum employment peak, the company had between 150 to 160 men on its payroll here. The present employment level is between 130 to 140. This crew will gradually be reduced, however, in the remaining months of work on the project.

The Meyers Construction company is installing new machinery

POTATO SPRAY ADVICE GIVEN

Growers Advised Not To Neglect Spraying This Summer

Farmers who want to make a success of their potato crop this year should not neglect thorough and timely applications of spray, J. L. Heirman, county agricultural agent, said yesterday. Farmers sometimes quit spraying too soon and if the plants are large, spraying is often difficult, but should not be abandoned. Since 60 per cent of the potato yield is made in the last few weeks of the season, spraying should be continued until frost or harvest.

MSC tests have shown that spraying with DDT improves the quality of the potatoes and steps up production from 60 to 100 bushels per acre. Plants should be sprayed first when they are four or five inches high. If plants have gone beyond this size and have not been sprayed yet, the spraying should start immediately. Spraying every 7 to 10 days is recommended, the county agent said.

DDT will control flea beetles and potato leaf hopper. The hopper often causes severe damage after having time as it leaves the hay fields and migrates to the potato fields after hay is cut.

Effective use of DDT comes when it is mixed with Bordeaux mixture or a fixed copper solution. The Bordeaux mixture or fixed copper solution will control blight. DDT should be added last and the solution sprayed as heavy as 125 gallons to the acre. The tractor should be driven slowly to get complete coverage.

Some farmers are inclined to travel too fast with the sprayer, resulting in a poor coverage of the plants with the spray. This is a critical time for blight. The fields should be watched daily for any outbreak that might occur. If blight hits the field, apply two applications with only a day interval between, Heirman advised.

Industrial Survey To Help Peninsula Get New Factories

Houghton, Mich. — (P) — More than 40 communities are included in the industrial survey program now under way throughout the Upper Peninsula, members of the Michigan Press Association were told here today at the closing session of an Upper Peninsula newspaper conference.

Properly used, these surveys will mark an important step toward solving economic problems of the peninsula, Benjamin F. Clark, field representative for the program, told the editors. They will enable each community to approach prospective industry armed with the facts to persuade that industry that it can prosper in the community involved.

Clark asserted that not only would the surveys disclose the industrial advantages of each community but that they would permit an approach to the industries which the community has the best chance of getting.

A large number of the individual surveys are well advanced and within "a few weeks we expect to be able to analyze the industrial factories which exist and refer local committees to the industrial groups best fitted to their communities," he said. "It is the opinion of those who have followed the work that the beneficial effects of the program will be demonstrated by many new factories in operation a year from today."

The program was inaugurated under the Michigan Planning Commission early last spring and responsibility for it for the month of July was assumed by the Michigan College of Mining and Technology when the commission ceased to exist July 1st. The Upper Peninsula Development Bureau is actively supporting the program with clerical and other office help.

Becomes Bride Of William Graham

At a ceremony performed Friday, July 25, in Detroit, Miss June DeSautel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeSautel, 700 West Elk street, became the bride of William Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Graham, 165 River street, of this city. The vows were exchanged before the Rev. Frank W. Wiley in the Gratiot Baptist church.

The bride was attired in a chartruese green dress with black accessories and a corsage of white roses and pink sweetpeas. Her attendant, Mrs. Lena Graham, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, wore a coral print dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses and white carnations. Leslie Graham Jr., brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The young couple spent a few days in Manistique this week on their honeymoon trip which they are spending in the Upper Peninsula. They will make their home in Lansing where the bride is employed in the bookkeeping department of the Bank of Lansing, and the bridegroom is employed with the Hager and Fox company. Both are graduates of Manistique high school.

DR. ANDERSON
TALKS ON GOLF

Rotary Club Speaker
Says Local Course
Community Asset

A good word for the pastime of golf and for Indian Lake golf course was spoken at the noonday meeting of the Manistique Rotary club Monday by Dr. C. F. Anderson, a director of the local golf committee.

The importance and popularity of golf in Manistique, said Dr. Anderson, became evident when the committee found that $175 in greens fees had been collected in the first 21 days the course had been operated this season.

The course is being operated this year with an understanding that the new management maintains the course, pays the taxes and the club license. The agreement was made that steps be made for the purchase of the course by a local community organization. The organization, made up of Manistique residents, numbers about 100.

"Golf," said Dr. Anderson, "is a decided asset to a community as an attraction to tourists, older age groups and for men and women in general."

Patronage by tourists, he said, has shown that the summer guest doesn't come here simply to fish, he likes the quiet relaxation which golf provides, as well. The exercise one gets from a leisurely stroll over the course, fills the needs of these who have acquired the sedentary habits characteristic of past middle age.

The local links were a hayfield when the new organization acquired its use and a fine crop of hay was garnered from it the first week. The course is now in first class shape. The committee plans to hold guest day one day each week.

Anderson said that it had been hope to make the club self-sustaining, but it may be necessary to call for assistance from the community at large. Its value as a tourist lure, he said, should justify this.

WANT TO JOIN
STATE POLICE?

Sgt. Wixom To Interview
Interested Young Men Today

Young men interested in joining the Michigan state police yesterday were reminded by Sgt. Willard W. Wixom, commander of the Gladstone post, that he will be at the post from 8 this morning until 6 o'clock this evening to interview prospective applicants and give them whatever information about the organization they desire.

Although applicants are invited to visit the post at any time to obtain this information, today has been set aside as a special day in connection with a current recruiting program to bring the State Police up to pre-war strength. No replacements in personnel were made while the war was in progress.

Minimum requirements are that a candidate must be between the ages of 21 and 30, unmarried, in good health and not less than five feet six inches in height.

"Service in the state police is not only interesting, but it has many other advantages," Sergeant Wixom said. "Among them are employment security, paid vacations, sick leave, promotions based on merit, and a pension. We think it is a fine career service, and it is proving especially appealing to war veterans, who now comprise most of our recruits."

Application blanks may be obtained at any post, or by writing the state civil service commission or the Michigan state police headquarters in Lansing.

Sends Overcoat To Europe, Gets Note
Asking Other Help

Last winter Leonard Elquist turned in a good overcoat to a drive for clothes for stricken persons of Central Europe which was sponsored by the Lutheran World Action group. In a pocket he placed a slip bearing his name. This week he received the following letter written in German. It's a literal translation:

"Very Worthy Sir:
"Kindly excuse me for not writing your name correctly. I hope the next time I will get it correct. When the clothes were distributed we came into possession of your name. The tag with your name we found in the room in which the clothes were distributed. We do not know to which garment the tag with your name belonged. We also do not know who received the garment which you donated."

"I am writing to you because the need here forces me to do this. For we know that in your country there are many honorable characters who wish to support us with charitable gifts, as this certainly also was your desire. I am sorry that I am not in a position to write in the English language. But you will perhaps have the opportunity to find someone who will be able to translate this letter for you. I would not like to have anyone here to get familiar with my private correspondence."

"My wife and my 82-year-old and sick mother-in-law and I are on the verge of collapse. And I beg you sincerely to kindly think of our plight. Possibly you will find an opportunity to cover the cost in money through a correspondent, who might transmit it to us. And if possible, you might let someone come to Germany I extend to you a hearty welcome to remain at our house."

"In the fervent hope that you will favorably regard my plea for charity I greet you most sincerely.

Communication

An interesting account of a trip from Guam to Japan and while in Japan is contained in a letter written by Joseph LaFramboise Jr., to his parents in California. The letter follows:

Wednesday night,
June 18, 1947.

Dear Folks:
Just got back from Japan today and had a nice trip. I left Guam last Monday morning on a C-46. What a ride. We hit a storm just before we got to two Jima and it was rather rough. Believe me it's a funny feeling flying over water for four hours at a stretch. The weather over two Jima was so bad we had to circle around for about an hour before landing. We had about forty minutes fuel left then. We ate dinner there and that is one place that's actually worse than Guam. It is very small and about the only thing they use it for is refueling airplanes. We left two Jima around two that afternoon and the next stop was Itami Airdrome outside of Osaka, Japan. We landed a little before seven and started our strange tour. We were taken to the railroad station in Osaka to catch a train to Gamagori and the rest center. Had almost two hours before train time. So the fellow that came up with me from the squadron and I walked around looking at the sights. Osaka is the third largest city in Japan and they can have it. We left Osaka about nine-thirty and arrived in Gamagori around two-thirty. It was only eighty miles and the trains are about the only travel so they stop at every village something like the Soo Line. We were taken to the Takeshima Hotel by bus and had some sleep. Woke up the next morning and I couldn't believe the Army could have such a beautiful place. The hotel is on a lake with its own little harbor with boats to use and reminded me a lot like Gladstone. The weather seemed to be the same also and felt good to have a little rest and wash. Walked into the mess hall and was handed a menu with seventeen different selections for breakfast. I had plenty of waffles and French toast and the food was very good. They have Jap girls dressed in brown slacks and white shirts that wait on tables and do everything in the hotel. The place was spotless at any time. There are two Red Cross girls that are in charge of all the sight-seeing tours and plan different things for the fellows. Japan is a very strange land and it's a scream to watch the people. The city of Gamagori is in walking distance of the hotel. The homes and shops are all built together and they will have a little shop in the front and live in the back. The streets are very short, about twenty feet wide, and no sidewalks. Cars are very few and they travel on trains and street cars. Bicycles are very common and rather light built. Wednesday we made a trip to Nagoya to change some money into yen. Nagoya is the eighth largest city in Japan and I took some pictures while there. It's forty miles from Gamagori and the roads are so bad it took two hours one way. The Headquarters Fifth Air Force have a beautiful building downtown and the fellows stationed there have nothing to kick about. I'll gladly trade anyone of them even for the stripes. Japs clean up all the barracks and even their clothes. All they do is work a little each day. The hotel staff takes the fellows on different tours every day such as: The beautiful shrines, a pearl farm, silk mill, shipyards, and tea parties. They have a theater across the street with rather new shows. A band plays at each meal and at the theater before the movie. We left Gamagori Tuesday morning at three and arrived in Osaka before nine. Ate dinner at Itami Airdrome and took off for two Jima. Had to stay over last night but got off at eight this morning for Guam and arrived here at twelve-thirty. That will give you the general idea of a wonderful trip I had and believe it was worth it.

ROOKIE SMACKS DETROIT, 5 TO 1

Victory Puts New York 10 Games Ahead Of Idle Boston Sox

New York, July 28 (AP)—Rookie right-hander Vic Raschi tonight won his fourth straight victory since his acquisition from Portland of the Pacific Coast league by pitching the New York Yankees to a 5-1 triumph over Hal Newhouse and the Detroit Tigers. A crowd of 64,887 paid admissions saw the Yankees increase their American league lead over the idle Boston Red Sox to 10 games.

Three walks and a double play produced the Yankees first run, while a pair of errors and a timely single by Joe DiMaggio added two more.

Tommy Henrich's third hit—a double—and a single by Yogi Berra produced the fourth tally, and Johnny Lindell's seventh homer resulted in the final Yankee runs.

Raschi was in trouble in every inning but the sixth and ninth but left ten Tigers stranded. The lone Bengal run was due to a single by George Kell, a wild pitch and Eddie Mayo's safety.

Many thanks to Ken Gunderman for a job well done in holding up this sports pillar while we were gallivanting about the hills, ravines and by-ways of Camp Grayling during the two-week National Guard encampment on the shores of Lake Margrethe.

MUNISING WINS AT MANISTIQUE

Sensational Plays Are Features Of 5 To 3 Victory

Manistique, July 28 — Munising had the best of it, by a score of 5 to 3, in a hard fought game with the Manistique Cardinals on the local diamond Sunday.

But for a period in the fifth inning when the visitors made a field day of it to run in four scores, the game was on an even basis. The Cardinals attempt to stage a comeback in the 6th inning was jinxed by the most sensational play of the day when Moote, the Munising shortstop leaped high in the air to stop a line drive that otherwise might have started a scoring spree.

Two double plays by Munising also put the kibosh on Cardinal hopes.

Lesica and O'Neal were very effective with the stick for Manistique, while Rousseau and Freyer clouted long drives for Munising.

WIN EXHIBITION

The Utilities won a nine inning exhibition game at Ensign Sunday, outwitting the Ensign team 12 to 6.

Courne and Benard split the pitching chores and Gafner caught.

the shores of Lake Margrethe.

In our absence, we missed those grass-skirted diamond warriors, the Zulus, a 17-inning city softball league game that Cliff Beaudoin, Jr., says was a "lull" in itself. And we missed Cooks first defeat in the Bay de Noc league, a general scramble of contending teams in both divisions of the Rainbow circuit and a lot of swimming at municipal beach and twilight golf.

But Ken wasn't kidding with that remark about the one-armed paperhanger. With a general shortage of National Guard personnel during these days of reorganization, everybody was doubling in brass and finding plenty to do at Grayling.

The 46th division is a brand new unit in Michigan, the Wolverine state's own to replace the famed 32nd division now allotted to Wisconsin. The encampment revealed that General Ralph A. Loveland, commander of the 46th, has the nucleus of a rousing good outfit. A fine cooperative spirit was shown, and the way men and officers pitched in to perform tasks under handicap of a general personnel shortage was commendable.

The people of Upper Peninsula can well be proud of their unit, the 107th Engineer battalion, only engineer unit in the Michigan National Guard. Young men from Escanaba, Gladstone, Rock, Perkins, Wells, Marquette, Ishpeming, Negaunee, Calumet, Houghton and Sault Ste. Marie, most of whom were without previous service, absorbed a lot of military know-how in two weeks, basic training that ordinarily would be spread out over a period of several months.

They were busy. Everybody was busy. But they got a lot out of it. The 17 and 18-year-olds had a chance to get a minner of school of the soldier, infantry drill, military courtesy and discipline, combat principles and a maximum of interesting engineering tasks and working with heavy equipment.

They cleared artillery terrain, repaired a road, demolished a building, constructed equipment for an Army demonstration of the .57 and .75 millimeter recoilless weapons, the sniper-scope and flame thrower.

In other words, the new National Guardsmen got a lot of Army in two weeks' time and, next summer, they'll get the rest in weekly drill sessions at the State Fairgrounds army and armories in Calumet, Sault Ste. Marie and Marquette.

Recreation in the form of organized athletics is a big part of the training program. But because of the uncertainty of this year's camp until practically the last minute, the camp athletic program suffered. However, within their respective units, the state's "minute men" got plenty of exercise. Softball, touch football, swimming in beautiful Lake Margrethe and such improvisations as young men can provide varied the camp program.

By next summer, the training program will be even more varied and interesting than it was this summer. With more facilities and training aids provided, more actual training and less plain hard work will be the bill of fare for the 1948 two-week encampment.

And speaking of the bill of fare, the word is out that next year, in addition to plenty of solids that make for muscles and curly hair, desserts will be placed on the menu.

Even engineers, it seems, like to finish off a meal with something sweet.

HEAD MAN — Manager of the Havana LaPalomas baseball team of the Cuban league which will play here against the Escanaba Bears in a feature twilight game next Tuesday, Aug. 5 is Ramiro Ramirez. The LaPalomas played many of the major league clubs in Havana last spring and are rated as an outstanding club. Also travelling with the club this season is Ed Hamman, rated by many baseball experts as the greatest baseball clown in the business.

The Escanaba Bears defeated the Gladstone Redskins, 7 to 4, in a Rainbow league game Sunday at City diamond in Escanaba, thereby keeping pace with the Munising Orioles for leadership in the South division of the league race.

The Bears opened the scoring in the third on two errors and two hits which brought in two runs, but Gladstone tied the count in their half of the fourth on four hits and an error. The rally gained life when L'Houillier dropped the ball after tagging D. Legault for what would have been the third out on a perfect peg to the plate from centerfield.

Escanaba gained four more unearned runs in the sixth on two hits, two errors and a walk. They scored their only earned run in the seventh on a single, a walk, a stolen base and a long fly ball.

Gladstone scored two earned runs in the eighth when Carlson was hit by a pitched ball. D. F. Legault doubled, Rothschild walked, D. Legault flied out to center and Williamson doubled.

Jack Beck, the Bears' pitcher, also was the batting star of the day with three hits in four trips.

Presbyterians Take Measure Of Rival Methodists, 23-3

That big chest you saw walking down Ludington street last night with Gump Olson behind pushing it was the result of the Presbyterians' 23-3 triumph over the Methodists in a crucial tilt to end all crucial tilts—until next season.

Gump, a sly strategist of the old school, managed the Presbyterians to their victory, with which went possession of an old silver mug, the "piece de resistance" of these annual clashes.

Al Ness, who piloted the losing Methodists, let it be known last night, according to a usually reliable source, that the game was played under protest (i. e. every-

SIMPLE RITES ARE HELD FOR MRS. TRUMAN

of the President's staff. Another highway patrol car ended the procession.

At Forest Hill cemetery, one-time burying ground for Confederate dead of the Battle of Westport, a grave stood open under a buff-colored canopy. It was on a rolling slope, beside the remains of Mrs. Truman's husband, John Anderson Truman, who died in 1914.

Two outsiders—now rated "almost family" because of their constant attendance in Mrs. Truman's declining months—were the sole exceptions to the family—only rule at the funeral and grave side. They were Dr. Joseph W. Greene of Grandview, Mrs. Truman's doctor, and Brigadier General Wallace H. Graham, the President's physician.

Wreath From Senate
No more than 20 members of the Truman family were in the funeral party. The pallbearers were J. C. Truman, Fred L. Truman, Harry A. Truman and Gilbert Truman—all sons of the President's younger brother, J. Vivian Truman; and two nephews, Maj. Gen. Ralph E. Truman of Kansas City and Murray T. Colgan, who farms near Independence, Mo.

At 4:50 p. m. (CDT) the procession reached the gates of the cemetery. Motorcycle patrolmen cleared traffic as the party approached.

Strict privacy was maintained. Only those cars in the funeral cortege were permitted to enter the steel fenced burying ground. The flag at the stone gates flew at half staff.

The services were simple. A prayer and a brief quotation from the Bible—"Ashes to ashes, dust to dust"—and it was over. On the casket were flowers from the President's family—gardenias, roses, white orchids and gladiolas.

About 30 other floral pieces were around the graveside. One was a 39-inch upright wreath of red and yellow roses and pink gladiolas bearing the inscription "From the U. S. Senate."

The family did not remain for the lowering of the casket into the grave on a knoll in the northeast corner of the cemetery where two trees, an elm and a Chinese Maiden Hair, shade Mrs. Truman's last resting place.

The commitment services lasted only 10 minutes.

Condolences From King
Then the President's car emerged from the gates, drove through a ravine down the tree-shaded entrance toward Independence. He had paid his last earthly respect to the woman whose boast was "Harry never forgets his mother."

The President's day had begun in the Summer White House where 2,000 messages of condolence from all over the world poured in upon the chief executive's family. One was a cablegram from Buckingham Palace expressing "the deep sympathy" of King George VI of England and his queen. Pope Pius XII sent a cablegram from the Vatican. Another came from Battery D, 129th Field Artillery, which the President commanded in World War I. It expressed "deepest sympathy" and added that flowers had been sent to "the most forgotten ward" in a Kansas City hospital in accordance with Mrs. Truman's request that floral offerings go to the living.

The Mexican ambassador, Dr. Espinosa De Los Monteros, called to bring the personal condolence of President Aleman, Harry Truman's close friend.

The President was "bearing up well" under the great strain, Charles G. Ross, press secretary, told newsmen. He added that the pressure of events in Washington would take the President back to the Capital tomorrow morning, boarding his plane, "The Sacred Cow," at 11 a. m. (CDT).

Mr. Truman meanwhile, has "given thought," Ross said, to the failure of the Senate to confirm his appointments to the new National Labor Relations Board before recessing Sunday.

But Ross said he would not care to predict whether Mr. Truman would make recess appointments of his nominees, so they could serve until Congress reconvenes next Jan. 2. The disputed nominations are those of Robert N. Denham, as general counsel of NLRB, and Abe Murdock and J. Copeland Gray as new board members.

Briefly Told

Eagles Initiation—Escanaba Aerie 1088, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will initiate a class of candidates tonight, and sponsors are reminded to have their prospective members on hand for the event. A buffet lunch will be served after the meeting.

Cards Keep Pace With Bums; Stop Braves By 8 to 7

St. Louis, July 28 (AP)—Two Cardinal catchers, Joe Garagiola and Del Rice, sparked the St. Louis club to an 8-7 triumph over the Boston Braves today in a slugging contest before 7,986 paying patrons. The victory enabled the second-place Redbirds to keep pace with the leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

The youthful Garagiola's pinch single sent Enos Slaughter home with the decisive run after two were out in the ninth. Rice's three-run homer in the eighth had tied the score.

Tea Wilks, the fifth Cardinal hurler, was credited with the victory and the veteran Si Johnson who went in after Warren Spahn had been lifted for a pinch batter in the ninth was charged with the loss.

Vander Meer Finds Old Touch To Shut Out Giants, 5 to 0

Cincinnati, July 28 (AP)—Cincinnati's Johnny Vander Meer, beaten in five previous July outings, regained his old time touch long enough to shut out the New York Giants today, 5-0 the third time the home run-hitting Giants have been blanked all season.

Cincinnati got to Mort Cooper for a run in the first inning on a single by Frankie Baumholtz, a walk, an outfield fly and Bert Haas' single but it was a tight duel between Vandy and Cooper up to the fifth when the Reds scored twice. Benny Zientara's single followed by Grady Hatton's double added one. Babe Young beat out an infield hit to Johnny Mize and when Cooper, covering the bag, stumbled over the base, Hatton scored all the way from second.

Specialists Check Alleged Frauds In Kansas City Voting

Washington, July 28 (AP)—Attorney General Clark announced today he has assigned two special assistants to work with the Kansas city grand jury investigating alleged irregularities in the 1946 primary election in the fifth Missouri congressional district.

One of those named by Clark to go to Kansas City is William A. Paisley who conducted the recent successful prosecutions of former Congressman Andrew J. May and the Garsson brothers, accused of a bribe conspiracy, and of former Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, convicted of mail fraud.

The other special assistant who will work with Paisley is Eric Broome, a specialist in investigations with war frauds section of the Department of Justice for the last four years.

marines were playing havoc with Allied shipping.

When Meigs said Kaiser got the contract even though aircraft experts said it would be a "complete impossibility" for him to turn out the planes called for in the 10 months he fixed, Ferguson asked:

"Was anything ever done like this before?"

"Never," Meigs answered.

Coal And Oil Areas In South Sumatra Captured By Dutch

BY STANLEY SWINTON
Batavia, Java, July 28 (AP)—The Netherlands army said today Dutch military columns, driving 100 miles in a week, had captured important coal and oil areas in southern Sumatra.

Other Dutch troops knifed through western Java in an effort to isolate another big section of Indonesian territory, it was announced.

The Indonesian army also reported successes, declaring that republican troops had captured a Dutch force of 763 men with all its weapons at Soekaboemi, near Bandoeng, and had penetrated the southern outskirts of Bandoeng, in western Java, and there "engaged the Dutch forces in street fighting."

(In New Delhi, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, vice president of the Indian interim government, announced that India would bring the Indonesian hostilities to the attention of the United Nations tomorrow in an effort to halt the fighting as soon as possible.)
